

PATTERSON-HAILEY

George Patterson and Miss Mary Hailey, both of Forest Park were married, Wednesday afternoon December 15, at 4 o'clock. Rev. G. W. Qualls performed the ceremony. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's father.

Mr. Patterson is the son of F. A. Patterson. He formerly was connected with the city fire department and is now working in the concrete business.

They will make their home on Euclid and Kale streets.

How about that library table—buy it now. We have a big line. H. I. Bradford.

A GOOD TIME AT THE APPLE BEE

Entertainment Given by Woman's Union Enjoyed by a Large Crowd.

The musical farce, "Squire Judkins Apple Bee," was given Tuesday night by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. The Elks auditorium was crowded and the entertainment was proclaimed a success by all who heard it.

D. H. Kemp took the part of Squire Judkins and carried it through with enthusiasm. His hearty laugh was contagious and whenever the Squire laughed the audience laughed with him. He brought in some very graceful allusions to The Times, the leading newspaper of Barry County.

Mrs. A. S. Hawkins was his hospitable wife and assisted in entertaining her guests by a negro dialect reading. Mrs. O. H. Hudson was their charming daughter and also gave a reading. All the characters were good and gave their parts well.

Several specialties were given. Miss Eunice Salzer, as a negro girl, sang "That Lovin' Man." As usual she made a hit with the audience and she was encored again and again. Paul Bowman also proved a good entertainer by his yodeling, which was exceptionally good.

A very pretty drill was given by twelve girls with hoops.

ANGORA GOATS AS OREGON PIONEERS

"Angora goats are helping to solve the problem of clearing the three million acres of logged off lands in western Oregon and western Washington," says the current issue of Farm and Fireside. "Goats charge nothing for their services, and they furnish meat and mohair, for which there is a demand at good prices.

"Angora thrive everywhere, except in the lodge room and the comic supplement, where they have never been able to supplant the Irishman's goat, which is supposed to live largely on gum overshoes and tin cans. The purebred Angora is quite a different creature, being covered with a beautiful coat of long, wavy hair, which has the sheen and luster of silk.

"When it comes to foraging and picking up a good living where any other animal would starve, the purebred Angora is equal of any scrub billy that ever butted his way through an unsympathetic world."

MONETT MAN VISITS IN RIO GRANDE VALLEY

W. F. Rausch and his wife have just returned from a visit to the Rio Grande Valley in Texas near Brownsville and Mr. Rausch has written for The Times a story of his trip. The article follows:

Having just returned from the Lower Rio Grande valley in Texas where I went on investigation of a special representative of the Alamo Land and Sugar Company and knowing that many of my friends would like to know what I think of that semi-tropical country, will state that it is better than we expected to find.

When you come out of a country like this and step out among orange, lemon and grape fruit trees all loaded with the finest kind of fruit you will imagine you are in another world. We saw trees of grape fruit where you could have picked a bushel of fruit and not move out of your tracks.

The largest lemons I ever saw grow there as well as our own commercial lemon.

Sugar cane is extensively grown. Corn makes two crops a year—the first crop 75 to 100 bushels to the acre and the second crop 40 to 50 bushels. Alfalfa is cut eight or ten times a year. Onions, lettuce and cabbage are extensively grown.

There are more hogs raised there than any place I ever saw. It is common to find from 200 to 500 head in one herd. One man told me he had sold $6,500 worth of hogs this year and has 500 head almost ready for market.

This land is all under irrigation. The water is pumped out of the Rio Grande river with pumps that throw hundreds of gallons a minute.

The prettiest country homes are found there which are surrounded with palm trees, flowers of all kinds and citrus fruit trees.

We had first class accommodations coming and going, board included, which was free with the ticket. Anyone who makes the trip through this country will find it money well spent.

Bananas grow there too but are not grown for market. Game is plentiful, such as quail and deer, which furnish lots of fun to the sportsmen.

The towns along the railroad are close together. San Juan is first, then 1 1/2 miles to Pharr, then 3 miles to McAllen and Mission 6 miles distant.

The company had automobiles waiting ready to take us out to see the sights. It took twenty-six to carry our crowd.

We visited the most important places among which was the great pumping station on the Rio Grande and Uncle Sam's soldiers who are camped along the Rio Grande.

On our way home we visited Galveston, took 25 mile boat ride, saw the great sea wall and had a mess of fish out of the Gulf. We stopped at Houston long enough to see the city and go to the theatre.

NEW LIBERTY

Mrs. Joe Beymer, who has been sick for the past ten days is much improved.

Mrs. Curnutt left Tuesday for Houston to look after his farming interests near that place.

W. D. Simmons had business in Aurora Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jackson are moving this week to Lebanon. Luther left Monday to drive a team through. Mrs. Jackson will go the last of the week on the train.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Tate visited in Marionville from Friday until Monday.

Mrs. Nellie Fleming Jones came in from St. Louis to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fleming. Mr. Jones will come later.

The Kings Prairie Union Church is about complete. It will be ready to hold services in the Fourth Sunday and probably sooner.

Rev. Brewer of the M. E. Church filled his regular appointment at the school house Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday night. Several united with the church Sunday night.

E. R. Stribling has been on the sick list the past week and unable to fill his appointment at Springfield last Sunday.

Mrs. W. H. Fleming is reported on the sick list this week. The revival at the Bethel Baptist church closed last Sunday night. A good meeting was reported.

W. F. Rausch, who has just returned from a trip to the Rio Grande Valley in Texas, brought to the Times office some fine specimens of the fruit grown there. It included grape fruit the large and small lemons, oranges and sugar cane. He also had some interesting pictures of that country.

FLAT CREEK ITEMS

Health not so good in this locality. A great many people have colds and sore throats.

The farmers who have corn in the shock have been very busy gathering it in the past few days.

We had a fine rain last Friday night also some hail.

Columbus Linn, of Joplin, is visiting his father and brothers of this neighborhood this and last week. He has been working in the mines at Joplin but he is getting tired of mining and is thinking of changing his occupation.

Philip Stout and family have our heart felt sympathy for the loss of his son who died in Kansas City.

Sim Hemphill has put up a fine lot of wood for Cedar Bluff school district. If winter does not arrive soon they will have a good supply left over for next year.

John Jackson killed hogs Friday. This will give the fish a rest for when John goes fishing he gets them.

Literary every Wednesday night at Sparks school house. They debated the question last Wednesday night, "Resolved that Robert E. Lee was a Greater General Than U. S. Grant" also had select reading and a very interesting paper. Next Wednesday night they will debate on the following question, "Resolved That Suffrage Should be Extended to Women" all are very interesting.

The farmers of this vicinity have been very busy this fine weather, some working getting in their corn, plowing, getting wood, etc., so when cold weather comes they will be better prepared than last year at this time.

Gunter creek is again dry and Flat creek is getting low enough for autos to travel the creek road. The Ford cars generally make it through the crossings but the large cars still have trouble when they come in contact with the water and loose gravel.

The meeting held at Cedar Bluff last Sunday by Rev. Greenway and Rev. McKinzie was well attended. These men preached some fine sermons and a good interest was shown in the meeting. They are to preach there again the second Sunday in December. All are invited to come.

Dutch Morlan on the Wes Hilton farm has put a new roof on his residence.

It would be a good idea for the directors of the different telephone lines to set a day for members each line to repair its line and we could have better service no doubt, if this work was done.

Joseph Mathis and wife of McDowell attended church at Cedar Bluff Sunday.

A very large crowd of people attended the pie supper at Sharps school house given one night last week, many pies were sold at good prices but the cake to be sold did not bring much as there was a disturbance which caused the bidders to lose interest. We were informed the amount of cash raised was about $22.00.

O. P. Brite and Wes Hilton have each been plowing for corn. Brite said he waited for the moon to get right before he would plant.

Come to our store for rugs. Special discount sale now on. Big lot of new rugs just arrived. H. I. Bradford.

The Joys and Clothes of Yuletide

Christmas without mistletoe and holly, without songs and festivities, without house adornment and good looking clothes, would still be Christmas. The joys of Yuletide are of the spirit. Yet how much more keenly do we feel these joys because of the century-old Christmas customs? And one of the best of these customs is that we be dressed well for the gatherings of Christmas time.

Our Tailoring

will appeal to you at this time because its tailoring that makes you look well in any gathering and there is yet time to have us take your measure for that suit or overcoat so that you may have it in time for Christmas.
